Meat:

Originally farmed exclusively for their exquisite feathers, ostriches are now raised commercially for their meat and leather.

Ostrich, the "healthy red meat," is a low fat, low calorie, low cholesterol alternative to traditional red and white meat - and is high in protein.

Leather:

Ostrich leather is unmistakable in its appearance; No other material looks similar to it. It is characterized by raised points that are localized to the center of the hide.

Exquisite ostrich leather is the strongest commercially available leather in the world, easily recognised for its distinctive quill pattern and revered for its suppleness and softness.
